

MINISTERS ENROLLED

As Members of the Auxiliary League of the Salvation Army.

THEY PRAISE THE ARMY'S OBJECTS

While Not Indorsing all its Methods, They Commend the Work of General Booth's Recruits.—Rev. Lyman Abbott, Charles A. Briggs and Others in Line and Contribute Money and Sympathy.

New York, June 22.—The Rev. Dr. Charles A. Briggs, the Rev. Dr. Lyman Abbott, pastor of Plymouth church, Brooklyn; the Rev. Dr. B. F. de Costa, of the church of St. John the Divine, and the Rev. Henry Wilson, formerly Dr. Kainsford's assistant at St. George's church, as well as Mrs. Abbott and Mrs. Briggs, have taken an action, the announcement of which will undoubtedly be a great surprise to many of the more orthodox of church members. They have enrolled themselves in the Auxiliary League of the Salvation Army, and by this action have signified their approval of the objects of that organization.

Many others of influential position in the community are also enrolled in the army's auxiliary league, and the standing of the organization bids fair to be materially improved in this country by support from these sources.

The fact that the persons mentioned have signified their willingness to act as patrons of the organization, as it were, does not, however, mean that they have unqualifiedly indorsed the army's methods and are henceforth to be classed as members of the Salvation Army. It does signify, though, that clergy members of eminence in their respective denominations have concluded that the object and results of the organization's work are worthy of their indorsement and co-operation, and that they are not afraid to publicly announce the fact.

The Auxiliary League organized in London more than a decade ago. It was a conception of General Booth and was designed to enlist the moral and financial support of people of wealth and standing whom the army could not secure as active members. The first attempt to introduce the idea in this country was made six or seven years ago, but not until about six months ago was the work of extending its influence and membership systematically undertaken.

DR. LYMAN ABBOTT'S INDORSEMENT. When I asked the Rev. Lyman Abbott if he had joined the Salvation Army, he laughed good naturedly, but then grew serious.

"No, I have not exactly put on a uniform," he said, "but I have subscribed to the Auxiliary League and given my indorsement to the very excellent work which the Salvation Army is doing. I do not approve of all its methods. In fact, I know of no other method and no man whose every method I approve. I'm not sure I approve all my own methods. But I do unhesitatingly approve the objects of the Salvation Army. It is doing a glorious work in going among the lowly and rescuing them from vice and shame and misery. No church could do the work, no minister of the Gospel could do the work."

"Mrs. Ballington Booth conducted a Salvation Army meeting at Plymouth Church last April and charmed both my parishioners and myself. I wanted to contribute something toward her work and decided that the best way of doing it was to join the league and induce others to do so when I could."

"Have any of my congregation objected? Not that I know of, though in an independent congregation like mine there may very likely be some people who will say, 'I wish Dr. Abbott hadn't done that.' I am thoroughly in sympathy with the league's work, though, and am glad I joined it."

DR. DE COSTA ENTHUSIASTIC. I found the Rev. Dr. De Costa even more enthusiastic on the subject of the league than was the Rev. Dr. Abbott.

"You see, I have long been accustomed to work of the character of the Salvation Army," said Dr. De Costa, "as I was deeply interested in the Church Army in England, which employs very much the same methods. The principal difference lies in the fact that the Salvation Army is non-denominational, while the Church Army is committed to the Church of England. I have addressed meetings of the Church Army in England and have marched with some of its members through the streets behind a band."

"Up to I wholly like the Salvation Army's way? Well, they may not be my ways, but they are adapted to the people with whom it deals, and certainly the army's workers have had wonderful success with the lowly whom the churches cannot reach. I have attended meetings of the army and once or twice been around with its members of the 'Slum Brigade.'"

"Indeed, I offered to raise sufficient money to support a post for the women workers in the slums, though the scheme has been temporarily abandoned because the right women could not be found."

"The 'Slum Brigade' make a practice of visiting disorderly houses and urging their inmates to lead pure lives. In the last three months they visited no less than six hundred places of the kind in New York and Philadelphia, and are about to open a refuge for fallen women up in Harlem. Any organization that performs this work, and many kindred works, merits the hearty support and co-operation of every Christian man and woman. It certainly has mine, and whenever I can aid it to get members I shall do so."

ENSIGN MARSHALL. The officer in charge of the league branch of the army's work in a prepossessing English woman, perhaps twenty-two or twenty-three years old, who is known in private life as Miss Edith Marshall. She joined the army in England, and was detailed for work in Paris and Switzerland on account of her familiarity with continental languages, and after serving her cadetship came to this country with the rank of ensign in the army. I called at the headquarters of the army, at No. 111 Reade street, yesterday, and asked her for an explanation of the league's aims and methods.

"I can summarize our aims very simply," she replied. "The league's one aim is to strengthen and extend the work of raising the fallen and helping the unfortunate. No, those who join the league are not required to indorse our methods. In fact, the former statement of its character expressly states this fact in these words: 'The Auxiliary League is composed of those persons who, while not perhaps indorsing and approving every method used by the army, are sufficiently in sympathy with the great work of reclaiming the drunkards, rescuing the fallen and saving the lost as to give their brains, influence and money."

"Those who join simply express a desire to become a member of the league and thus help to extend the kingdom of God." Having signed this declaration they become auxiliaries, pay $5 a year dues and morally pledge themselves to aid us to the best of their ability. A little passbook and certificate of membership is sent to them, and they are provided with a pin and badge, which they may or may not wear as they see fit."

"Meetings for auxiliaries are held about every six weeks and one will take place next Wednesday at our post, No. 122 West Fourteenth street. Both Drs. Abbott and De Costa, and, I think, Dr. Briggs, have attended some of these meetings, and at least two of them have addressed meetings."

THREATENED BY A DAM

The Situation in St. Clair Valley on Account of a Leaking Reservoir.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., June 22.—After twenty hours of work at drawing off through the pipes, the water in the immense leaking reservoir of the Pottsville water company, in the St. Clair valley, has only lowered six feet, and the danger of the entire breast giving way at any instant has increased. Experts and the builders of this dam frankly confess that they cannot understand how the bank is holding together so long under the weight of escaping waters. The people of St. Clair and surrounding towns are still on the hills where they spent the night. Pottsville and other safe places are threatened hundreds of them last night. St. Clair council are being urged to and the suspense by the dam dynamite, and the excitement is beyond description.

The Reading Railroad Company has suspended traffic on the branch in the threatened valley and have removed a good part of its engines and rolling stock to safe points. Large construction gangs are ready for instant call and large quantities of new material have been brought to neighboring points.

Employers Will Retaliate.

New York, June 22.—Between 200 and 300 housemiths belonging to the Knights of Labor were notified by their employers last night that unless their organization discontinues the strike against the architectural iron works by to-morrow morning they will be discharged. Between 2,000 and 3,000 more will receive this same notification when they reach their posts this morning. The leaders of the order of the Knights of Labor comprehend the gravity of the situation and will make other terms. Fifty thousand men, the employers say, will be idle within two weeks. The Knights of Labor have lost pretty much all power in this city, save in the building trades. Here they have had things their own way and the employers say that the Knights have harassed them past endurance.

Her Unnatural Love.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 22.—Unnatural love for one of her own sex caused Mollie Williams to suicide by jumping into the river yesterday. The woman has for some time shown a partiality for a woman lover, who quarreled with her. Mollie at once became despondent and shortly before ten o'clock left the house and started in the direction of the river. She stood on the edge of a coal barge for several minutes, evidently in deep thought. Then lighting a cigarette she cast herself from the barge into the water. A boat tender witnessed her actions, but before he could reach her she had sunk for the last time. An hour later the body was recovered. The woman was about twenty years old.

Fell out of a Window.

CHICAGO, June 21.—The Joel Parker Democratic club, of Newark, N. J., will return home short, one of its number.

Fred C. Blaicher, one of the club's most devoted members, fell asleep on the window sill of his room on the fourth floor of the Tremont house about four o'clock this morning, and while thus engaged lost his balance and fell to the ground killing him instantly. The deceased was a well-to-do citizen of New York and quite prominent in the councils of his party.

Drank too much Water.

PARIS, May 22.—Three workmen employed in a plaster quarry in the town of Argenteuil, seventeen miles from Versailles, made a wager to-day as to which of them could swallow the most water. One man imbibed twelve quarts of the fluid, another nine quarts and the third seven quarts. In a short time the three men were taken violently sick and all died in a few hours.

Indications of Foul Play.

TREXTON, N. J., June 22.—William E. Rockwell, a well-known printer, was found dead in the canal this afternoon. He had been missing since Sunday. There are indications of foul play and an inquest will be held.

CESAR'S famous "Veni, vidi, vici."—I came, I saw, I conquered—might be an appropriate motto for Ayer's Sarsaparilla. We charge nothing for the suggestion. This great blood purifier conquers wherever it comes, and is now absolutely without equal in the world.

Summer Excursion Tickets.

To all northern and eastern seaside, lakeside and mountain resorts, to Deer Park and Oakland, the Virginia Springs, Niagara Falls, Luray Caverns, Gettysburg, and all other points where people gather in search of health and pleasure, are now on sale at greatly reduced rates. Ticket offices at greatly reduced rates. These tickets will be sold from June 1 to September 30, and are valid for return passage until October 31. Before selecting your route of resort consult Baltimore & Ohio summer excursion book, in which shortest routes and lowest rates, via "Picturesque Baltimore & Ohio" to all resorts are given from points on that road east of the Ohio river; profusely and artistically illustrated. This book can be procured free of charge upon personal application to the ticket agents, Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, or you can have it mailed to you by sending name and address with ten cents in stamps to Charles O. Seall, General Passenger Agent, Baltimore, Md.

A Good Suggestion.

From the Delaware (Times) Telegraph. The adjournment of the impeachment court last Saturday, on account of Gen. Weaver's belly-ache, cost the people of the commonwealth nearly $500. One dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy would have saved this expense; and we suggest, as a matter of economy and humanity, that the state provide against future contingencies of this nature, by furnishing each senator with a bottle of that valuable remedy. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by druggists.

MOONSHINE.

A Miscellaneous Melange of Minor Matters from Marshall's Metropolis.

The various committees having charge of the arrangements for the Mining and Manufacturing Company's excursion Thursday met at the court house last night and reported that enough carriages and buggies had been donated by citizens to carry 200 people, and that good speakers had been selected. The speakers will each cover a part of Moonshine's past, present and future in their remarks. The mayor was asked to request all business houses to close between the hours of 2 and 5 p. m. on Thursday. The reception committee, which originally consisted of twenty members, was increased to twenty-five—the addition named being L. B. Martin, John Miller, Chas. Beam, George Bryson and J. J. Kearnes. A part of the reception committee will visit Wheeling to-day to talk up the interest in the excursion.

The People's party convention assembled at the court house yesterday to nominate a county ticket. L. S. Newman was made chairman and J. M. Turner and C. D. Moore secretaries. The contest over the sheriffalty was very warm, but after many ballots J. W. Cunningham, of Pleasant Valley, was nominated. For house of delegates, L. S. Newman and J. I. Bonar were selected, and McConnell, of Union district, for commissioner.

Circuit court adjourned yesterday morning and vacated the court room for the People's party convention. The judge continued the session in the clerk's office and transacted some business.

There has been but one jury case tried this term of court, and that only required six men. It was the celebrated cow case of the Mining and Manufacturing company.

The Moonshine base ball team will go to Clarington this week to play a series of games with the club at that place.

Moonshine will not have a Fourth of July celebration this year. Preparations for the event have been dropped.

William P. McDonald, the contractor of McMechen, has removed his family here to live.

Will L. Hammond is home from the M. E. Seminary at Backhannon to spend his vacation.

The Pittsburgh Suit Club company will probably open a branch office in Moonshine.

F. T. Cartwright, of the Quest, was here yesterday in the interest of his paper.

Thomas Scott, of Thompson, is building a fine residence on Tomlinson avenue.

Samuel Logan, of Columbus, O., and family are the guests of friends here.

The Park and the Frog Pond tennis clubs are arranging for a match.

Mrs. E. E. Hagermann, of Wheeling, is visiting friends here.

W. B. Pack will build a new residence in the Blake division.

A Sensible Woman

She's putting the washboard where it'll do some good. She has suffered with it long enough; broken her back over it, rubbed the clothes to pieces on it, wasted half her time with it. But now she knows better. Now she's using Pearlina—and when a woman uses Pearlina, the only way to use the washboard is in the kitchen fire. There's no more hard work, no more ruinous rubbing, but there's washing that's easy and economical and safe.

Millions of women are just as sensible as this one. Are you?

Send Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearlina." IT'S FALSE—Pearlina is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearlina, do the honest thing—send it back.
